Best South East Irish golf courses:

Portmarnock - Arguably one of the top Links golf courses in the World. Host to numerous professional and amateur events including 19 Irish Opens, Walker Cup and World Cup, the course offers legendary Links golf from the 1st Tee to the 18th green.

The European - Located in magnificent sand dunes on the Irish sea about 30 miles south of Dublin city centre, this world-renowned course is regularly ranked as one of the world's top 100 Links course to play.

Royal Dublin - As the second oldest golf course in Ireland (1885) the course has a dynamic history and has a true championship layout with classic out and back. The greens are outstanding and the course lies flat with narrow and long stretches calling for accurate drives.

Druids Glen - Often referred to as the "Augusta of Europe" there is more colour here than any other course in Ireland. With its brilliant flora and card-wrecking stretch of holes from the 12th to the 14th, called 'Ireland's Amen Corner', the course feels like a classy American Country Club.

Carton House - Located just 15 miles from the west of Dublin city centre, the course was the host for the Irish Open 2013. With a modern look and feel, the course gets its definition between the cuts of grass and the many deep pot bunkers.

The K Club - A golf holiday in Ireland would not be complete without a visit to the K Club. Regularly ranked in the top 3 parkland golf courses in Ireland, the Palmer Ryder Cup course is quite simply one of Europe's most spectacular courses.

A photograph of a grand hotel lobby. The floor is covered in a blue patterned carpet. In the center, a large mural depicts a historical scene with figures and a building. The mural is reflected in a polished surface below it. The lobby is lined with white columns and has recessed lighting in the ceiling and floor.

The Merrion Hotel, Dublin -

The Merrion Hotel is Dublin's most luxurious five star hotel. Four converted Georgian terraces furnished in period style welcome Dubliners and visitors to the city with stunningly appointed rooms, crackling turf fires and a host of facilities. Featured in the Gold List 2011, the hotel has received many prestigious awards and accolades over recent years. Within the hotel premises you will also find the two-Michelin-starred Restaurant Patrick Guilbaud for excellent contemporary cuisine.
