St. Andrews golf courses:

Old Course - If there is a single course in the entire world that most golfers aspire to play just once in their lifetime, it is the Old Course at St Andrews - a course like no other and an experience like no other.

New Course - This is a classic links course with undulating fairways and delightfully challenging greens and remains one of the finest examples of Tom Morris work to be found anywhere.

Jubilee Course - this course was developed from a basic 12-hole layout into what many now consider to be the toughest test of golf at St Andrews. Created on a narrow strip between the New Course and the sea.

Castle Course - Designed by David Kidd, creator of Bandon Dunes on the West Coast of America, the course sits on the rugged cliffline overlooking St Andrews and combines breathtaking views with a memorable golfing challenge.

Kingsbarns - Home of the famous Dunhill Links Championship, the course is known for its intimate connection with the sea. Boasting sandy soils, undulating ridges and hollows with Cambo burn running into the ocean.

Carnoustie - thought to be one of the ten oldest golf clubs in the world. Nicknamed "Car-nasty", it is considered by many to be the most difficult course on the Open Championship rota and one of the toughest courses in the world.

This prestigious five-star hotel has 144 rooms including 35 suites and is recognised as one of Europe's leading resorts offering a quietly confident service, luxurious facilities and a warm welcome in the finest traditions of Scottish hospitality.

Bordering the renowned 17th 'Road Hole' of the famous Old Course at St Andrews, the Old Course Hotel enjoys a spectacular location overlooking the renowned links courses, the West Sands beach and the beautiful Scottish coastline. Discover the historic university town of St Andrews, just a short stroll from the resort, and explore the surrounding countryside of the ancient Kingdom of Fife.

Optional - play Golf with a Pro

Enjoy a private day of golf with a top international player. So whether it's a legend of the game, one of the many up-and coming youngsters, or a high-ranking Tour Pro, through our unique relationship with the world's leading sports management companies, we can arrange for you and your clients to be joined by a golfing hero at a course of your choice.

You will play 9/18 holes with your chosen player, get one to one tuition from them and the opportunity to spend some quality time getting to know the golfer, finding out what life on tour is like and what it takes to become a world-class player.

We look forward to creating your ultimate golf experience.
